Art. 18.5	If a change of address leads to a premium adjustment, CSS will adjust the premiums on the date of the address change. An adjustment of this kind does not constitute grounds for termination.	If a change of address leads to a change in premiums, CSS will adjust the premiums on the date of the address change. The insured person will be notified of the premium adjustment in a new policy. In the case of a premium increase, the insured person may terminate the contract in question with effect from the end of the current month by giving notice in writing. Such notice is deemed to be on time if it is received by CSS no later than 25 days after receipt of the new policy. If no such notice is given, Article 18.4 will apply.
