| Art. 2.1 | Illness is defined as any impairment of physical or mental health not resulting from an accident that requires a medical examination or treatment or that leads to incapacity for work.                                                                                                        | Illness is defined as any impairment of physical, mental or psychological health not resulting from an accident that requires a medical examination or treatment or that leads to incapacity for work.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Art. 2.2 | An accident is defined as the sudden unintentional harmful effect of an unusual external factor on the human body.The policy shows whether or not each benefit is insured in case of accident.Any references to illness in the General Insurance Conditions refer to accident as well. | An accident is defined as any sudden, unintentional, harmful effect of an unusual external factor on the human body that results in an impairment of physical, mental or psychological health, or that leads to death. Whether or not each benefit is insured in case of accident is indicated in the policy.References to illness in the General Insurance Conditions also apply to accidents by analogy.                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Art. 10  | CSS should be informed immediately of any change of residence.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | If a change of address leads to a change in premiums, CSS will adjust the premiums on the date of the address change. The insured person will be notified of the premium adjustment in a new policy. In the case of a premium increase, the insured person may terminate the contract in question with effect from the end of the current month by giving notice in writing. Such notice is deemed to be on time if it is received by CSS no later than 25 days after receipt of the new policy. If no such notice is given, the change to the insurance in question will be deemed approved. |
